General Comment

Government-funded (taxpayer-funded) healthcare has no business supplying contraception medications or supplies or money for abortions? Why? Because neither of these are necessary if a woman keeps her legs closed and does not engage in sex. Sex is a willful act, and therefore, any sex act that results in conception is the responsibility of the mother. Furthermore, as a Christian, you take my tax money from me without my consent and use it for these purposes; therefore, since it is money I earned that you are taking, you are violating my religious principles and taking away my right to my beliefs and values.
